

What has become of the anti-trust laws? These giga-companies are destructive of the American way of life, and I weep to see them taking over.